CAMPUS

Brockport's Campus School has two sections of each grade kindergarten through the eighth with one section of four-year olds. Eighteen classroom supervisors guide the college students who come into the classroom to:

1. Observe child development and the best educational practices.
2. To have teaching experiences with children, and,
3. To share in the experimentation that is an essential part of an educational program.

The Campus School unit has been a unique feature of the teacher education program in New York State for many years. It has been referred to as "The heart of the teacher education program."

IN MEMORIAM

Bernard W. Drake came to Brockport, August 1, 1936 as Director of Training and later became Dean. His prior experience as teacher and administrator had given him a fine professional knowledge and wise understanding of youth. He provided the unfailing kindness, the personal loyalty and the marked devotion to the upbuilding of Brockport which characterized his service for the twenty-one years he was with us. Many a graduate will remember some quiet word of commendation for work well done, some constructive criticism when it was needed, some help in locating a position, some counsel on personal problems or some pleasant bit of wisdom culled from his own early experience as a student or teacher.

His best memorial will be in the hearts of those who knew him as a teacher, an administrator and an associate.
